Notes: Performance measures reported pursuant to the USF/ICC Transformation Order and Lifeline Reform Order. Figures do not represent the average amount individual households see on their bills because universal service contribution data do not separate business from residential contributions. The Commission does not currently collect data that would allow the residential amount to be calculated accurately. FCC staff, using data from FCC Form 499 and third party reports, estimates that contributions based on services typically sold to residential users represent roughly one-half of overall contributions; the third party data sources used in creating these estimates are the 2013 Telecommunications Industry Association (TIA) Market Forecast and Review and the U.S. Census. FCC staff believe that the residential portion of the total contribution is between 45% (low estimate) and 55% (high estimate).
